About us....

The Office of Student Services strives to create experiences that will allow students to live, learn, lead, and love, empowering them to become global citizens ready to positively impact the world.

Students who interact with our office will:

1. Acquire and apply knowledge that will contribute to their academic success.
2. Acquire and demonstrate critical thinking and reasoning skills that support their ability to effectively address and solve problems.
3. Develop a sense of self and an understanding of their own identity and values.
4. Learn how to effectively work with others and form healthy and respectful relationships.
5. Learn to recognize the impact of privilege and power on self and society, and develop an appreciation for cultural and human differences.
6. Learn and develop skills necessary to maintain a healthy and productive life.

Each residence hall has a part-time, professional Resident Director. The RD is responsible for the overall management of the residence hall. A key element to their job is to work with all residents to establish a positive living community.

Each floor has at least one Resident Assistant. An RA is an undergraduate student who has been selected to aide in helping with the student experience. RAs serve as a resource, promote positive community building, and showcase educational programming.

Talk to your roommate....

Having a successful relationship with your roommate can make the difference in whether your living experience here is a positive one. Once you have your assignment, reach out to your roommate and begin to get to know one another. Consider the four C's when building a successful roommate relationship:

Communication: Keep an open dialogue with one another, and talk about concerns before they can become a problem.

Consideration: Be mindful of your actions in your shared living space. Avoid setting expectations of others that you would not be willing to meet.

Compromise: Focus on what you and your roommate both need to have a successful living arrangement. Sometimes you have to give a little to get a little.

Cooperation The best teams work together and have a mutual agreement on shared responsibilities.
