

Wesleyan Wednesday

Adrian Christopher '13

Today's #WesleyanWednesday feature is Adrian Christopher '13! Adrian came to Wesleyan from Memphis, TN to play football and major in criminal justice. "Not only did Wesleyan present an opportunity to me to play football and obtain a quality education, it also just felt like home when I made my first visit to campus," he remembered.

Adrian, a first-generation college graduate, credits his time at Wesleyan for helping him become a better man overall. "My experience at KWC improved my organization and interaction skills, and it taught me the importance of hard work," he shared.

"Dr. Ken Ayers and Coach Holsclaw both mentored me during my time at Wesleyan. They pushed me to understand life perspectives and become a better man over my years there. As I matured from age 18 to 21, I had them to seek expertise and veteran experience about life from."

As far as special memories while at Wesleyan, Adrian remembers how special it felt to have an opportunity to achieve his lifetime goal of graduating from college. "It was also special to me that I was able to obtain a job immediately after graduation and that I was able to build friendships that will last a lifetime," he said. His favorite spot on campus was the library. "It was my favorite due to the amount of productivity I was able to get done there and it being quiet."

After graduation, Adrian went on to earn his master's degree in criminal justice-public administration from Liberty University in 2014. What's he up to nowadays, you ask? You know we asked. Adrian is living in California and is working as a United States Secret Service Agent! Pretty awesome, huh?!

When we asked Adrian what it meant to him to be an alum of KWC, he said: "To me, it means that, regardless of the size of the school, all goals are achievable." He went on to say that he recommended Kentucky Wesleyan to prospective students "because of the smaller classroom size and the opportunity to have more interaction with the faculty and staff."

Adrian, we are SO proud of you for going after your goals! We can't wait to see where your career and life takes you, and we are proud to call you an alum of Kentucky Wesleyan College. Keep up the good work!
