

Adjunct Laboratory Instructor, General Chemistry

Kentucky Wesleyan College, a private, liberal arts college with a long-standing reputation for quality and academic excellence, is seeking an adjunct laboratory instructor for the General Chemistry sequence for majors. This is a part-time, temporary position for the Spring 2021 semester. The start date is January 4, 2021.

Responsibilities

- Teaching laboratory courses for science majors including but not limited to General Chemistry II and possibly Organic Chemistry II.
- Working with full-time faculty to prepare laboratory course material and maximize the lab experience for students.
- Contributing professional expertise to the college and the larger external community.

Minimum Qualifications

- MS with graduate coursework in Chemistry, Biochemistry, or a related discipline and a broad background in science. Applicants currently enrolled in graduate school with at least 18 credit hours of course work in Chemistry will be considered.
- Candidates who are available to teach in-person laboratory classes are preferred, but candidates who can deliver remote instruction will also be considered.
- A strong commitment to teaching, mentoring, and working with undergraduate students, and a passion for providing an exceptional classroom experience for students.
- Enthusiastic and dynamic personality.
- Effective communication skills.
- Ability to work collaboratively.

Application Process

Please complete the online application at <https://kwc.edu/application-for-employment/>. As part of the online application, please include a letter of application, curriculum vitae, and unofficial transcript of highest degree. Kentucky Wesleyan College is an equal opportunity employer.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

An official transcript for the highest degree awarded will be required of the hired candidate, as will a background check. The College will not sponsor applicants for work visas.

Additional Information

Kentucky Wesleyan College is a private, four-year liberal arts institution located in the vibrant city of Owensboro. A United Methodist-related college founded in 1858, Wesleyan is known for excellence in academics and a superior residential experience.
